HURRYING FIRE WITH KEROSENE FATAL TO BOY, 15

WILLIS HUNTER, AGE 15, DIED ON WAY TO HOSPITAL HERE

Lad Got Kerosene at Store This Morning at Bald Hill, Where His Family Has Residence.

HORRIBLY BURNED

Willis Hunter, aged 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hunter, of Bald Hill, died this morning in a sled en route to the Clearfield hospital, as the result of burns received at his home this morning when he attempted to start a fire with coal oil.

Young Hunter arose this morning between 6 and 7 o'clock and while starting a fire in the stove attempted to get quick action by the use of some coal oil from a five-gallon can of the stuff. The usual result followed and the explosion deluged the boy and the room with the burning oil.

Neighbors attracted to the scene succeeded in extinguishing the fire in the boy's clothing but not until the clothes were literally burned off of him. Dr. H. H. Lewis, of Surveyor, called and administered first aid to the badly injured lad whose body was burned all over, and he was then placed in a sled belonging to the Bald Hill Coal Company and accompanied by James Hunter, an uncle, and Supt. David Davidson, started for the Clearfield hospital. When the hospital was reached it was found the boy had died on the way up and his remains were turned over to Undertaker Thompson, who prepared them for burial and then took them back to Bald Hill for interment.

The room in which the explosion occurred was badly damaged and the furniture destroyed but strenuous work on the part of neighbors saved the house from destruction, although the remainder of the Hunter family who were on the second floor at the time had to jump out of the upper windows to escape.

COLLINS GETS THREE YEARS
Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 16.—Harry Collins, former proprietor of the notorious "Black and Tan Cabaret," famed for night life and free mixing between whites and negroes was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and serve three years in the Western Penitentiary by Judge Carpenter in Criminal Court. Collins was convicted of trafficking in drugs. A motion for a new trial was denied.

No Relief Is Promised From Cold Wave Until Sunday, Says Bureau

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—The cold wave in the eastern part of the United States will continue until tomorrow night the Weather Bureau forecasted today.

Low record temperature for many parts of the country were reported.

San Francisco, Feb. 16.—Belief that the lives of all seamen imperiled in the wreck of the five ships off the coast of Washington had been saved was dashed today when efforts to locate the crew of the Tuscan Prince proved unavailing.

The last word to be received from the ship, with a crew of more than forty, was a wireless flash that she was sinking fast in Mott's Sound near Elixian Point.

The crews of the other wrecked vessels were saved.

ALLIES TO REFUSE OBEDIENCE TO THE TURKISH DECREE

London, Feb. 16.—Allied high commissioners are sending a note to Ankara today refusing to recognize the Turkish ultimatum demanding clearance of Smyrna Harbor of all foreign vessels.

British and French cruisers and destroyers have remained in the foreign waters regardless of the ultimatum set by the latest Ottoman dismissal and the Allies are not retreating from their defiance of any Turkish decrees having to do with their liberty of action.

HUGHES DENOUNCES BRITAIN'S ACT IN EXPELLING CONSUL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—The United States has prepared a sharp note to Great Britain denouncing the attitude of the latter Government in expelling two American Consuls from New Castle, England.

The note, signed by Secretary Hughes, takes no trouble to conceal the displeasure of the American Government at the step taken by Great Britain in connection with her action in cancelling the recognition of the United States Consuls at New Castle.

ESSEN EXPERIENCES ALL THE INJURIES OF A REAL INVASION

Dusseldorf, Feb. 16.—Arrests, restriction and resistance in the Ruhr multiplied today until many districts were in a state scarcely distinguishable from that of war.

Conditions were worse at Essen where two infantry Companies were sent out to take possession of the city hall, while French soldiers with fixed bayonets joyfully helped themselves in shops and in restaurants and the tension increased during the day. German Nationalists were reported a demonstration against the invaders and French troops took extraordinary precaution, fearing a coup.

General Fournier sought to break the shop-keepers boycott against the French troops by permitting the soldiers to break in and take what they pleased. The Frenchmen had a hilarious time drinking free beer and liquors. Officials requisitioned by force whatever they required.

Essen, Feb. 16.—German police shot two French soldiers in the Zellershof hotel here last night. French troops in the hotel insisted upon being served despite the boycott which was in effect against them. Two German police entering the hotel, opened fire, wounding two.

National Legislation Cannot Cure Divorce Evil Says Able Man

Madison, Wis., Feb. 16. (United Press)—Marriage and divorce problems of the nation cannot be settled by national legislation.

"The country is too big and conditions vary greatly on this subject; secondly, an amendment in this matter cannot change the morals of the people," Dean H. S. Richards, of the law school of the University of Wisconsin said.

A uniform law might not be administered uniformly, he pointed out.

"It might make the definition of divorce uniform, but that would not alter the difficulty the courts meet when there is collusion.

"When people are agreed to a divorce, evidences and grounds are a secondary consideration. Equally, it is impossible to regulate the decisions of the courts. Grounds are sufficient and evidence is valid when they appear so to the judge and jury, and their loose or strict interpretation of the law is determined by the attitude of that part of the public which forms the community.

"People differ widely in various communities; for instance, in South Carolina, where divorce is not allowed for any reason, people are almost wholly against divorce; in Nevada, which is notorious for the ease with which a divorce may be secured, people have enacted a broader legislation.

"Betterment of the divorce situation will come only when there is a change in the attitude of the people as a whole. When this change does come, it will evidence itself in a change in state laws."

Practically every state in the union disregards the article in the federal constitution enjoining each state to accept as law the judicial proceeding of every other state, as far as divorces are concerned. In Wisconsin, for instance, the authorities will not recognize as legal a marriage that has taken place within a year after one of the parties was divorced, when the divorce was granted in another state.

Mr. H. F. Dietz, returned to his home at Hickory, No. Carolina, Wednesday after spending the past two months with his son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Dietz. Mr. and Mrs. M. O. A. Sahm entertained a drop-in last evening at their home on Third street. The evening was spent in playing 500. Dainty refreshments were served.

MANY SO-CALLED REFORM BILLS MAKE THEIR APPEARANCE IN LEGISLATURE

Harrisburg, Feb. 13. (United Press)—An unprecedented number of "reform bills" were demanding the attention of the members of the General Assembly today.

The flood of this type of bills began with the first day of the session and has continued until scores have found their way to committees of both the House and the Senate. Perhaps the principal feature of this legislative phenomenon, which is frankly puzzling many of the most experienced members, is the fact that most of them are coming "direct from the people."

In many instances the legislators who sponsor these bills admit that they are acting on the instance of constituents and not attempting to register their own legislative theories. In committee meetings when questioned concerning a bill the sponsor often is forced to reply, "I really am not sure of that point myself. I was asked to offer this bill by some of my constituents."

Some of the "reforms" already pending before the Legislature are: Prison reform. Election reform. Reforms in the motor vehicle laws. Tax reforms. Labor and health reforms.

An interesting array of bills that are in committee calls for such adjustment in the present scheme of life as:

C. H. S. MUST WIN TONIGHT TO STAY ON TOP OF HEAP

By DICK LEIPOLD

Two of the hardest games on the Red and Black's schedule will be played this week-end, when, tonight Coach Reed's dribblers play at Reynoldsville, and Saturday evening meet the fast Mount Union High floor team at the local school's gym.

The Reynoldsville game promises to be just about the toughest league contest that Clearfield will encounter until Brookville invades Clearfield, and a very close score should result, if dope runs true. The Reynoldsville team, floor and crowd form a triumvirate that is hard to beat. The floor is very small, being on the same type as the old Clearfield "Y" gym. Shots are possible from any position, and a tight defense against shooting is almost impossible, which means that C. H. S. tossers must play their opponents man for man, instead of using their regular defensive system. The Jefferson county five put up a wonderful game on their home floor, as past scores indicate. It took Brookville an extra period to annex a 21 to 18 victory, while DuBois' strong aggregation was played to a 14-14 score at half time, although eventually winning the game.

Clearfield Must Win This Evening. If the locals are to remain at the top of the league ladder, this evening's game must result in a Red and Black victory. A loss means that the winner of the DuBois-Brookville battle at Brookville will be tied with C. H. S. for first place. At present, Clearfield has an excellent chance of carrying off the district championship, if a slump does not attack Reed's machine, for possessing a one-game lead over the two nearest rivals, DuBois and Brookville, Clearfield cannot be overtaken if the last four games are wins. This one game advantage is a difficult position to obtain in a close (Continued on Page 5)

LOST BOTH LEGS WHEN RUN OVER BY A COAL TRAIN

Benjamin Ritchey, of Scotch Hollow, near Philipsburg, was run over by a train on the Big Run branch of the Pennsylvania railroad, on Wednesday morning last and suffered the loss of both legs. One of the legs was cut completely off by the train, while the other was so badly mangled it had to be amputated at the Cottage State Hospital at Philipsburg yesterday.

The unfortunate man, though suffering great pain, has a chance for recovery, his physicians say.

BRITAIN REFUSES TO ALLOW FRANCE INTO COLOGNE

London, Feb. 16.—The latest Franco-British conference ended abruptly today reported in disagreement by the British refusing France permission to take troop manned trains through the Cologne area.

Optimism expressed earlier in the day that the French Minister of Public Works would be successful in his mission was dampened when the conference broke up.

The entente survives the breakdown, however, it was authoritatively indicated. The French will return to Paris tonight.

Paris, Feb. 16.—The general strike of French coal miners, which began today is serious, it was semi-officially admitted this afternoon.

Seventy-five per cent of mine workers in the Loire region are out, about twenty per cent in the Nord and ten per cent elsewhere.

Mrs. Eva Stoughton, who was a medical patient at the Clearfield hospital, has returned to her Ogden avenue home very much improved in health.

C. B. Corless of Coniston, Ontario, spent several days in Clearfield on a matter of business.

Last Rehearsal Held For Free All-American Concert On Sunday

Everything is in readiness for the patriotic band concert to be given in the High School auditorium by the Clearfield American Legion Band on Sunday afternoon next. Prof. Thayer called a rehearsal for last night to put the finishing touches on some of the numbers and this promises to be one of the most popular concerts that this live musical organization has ever given Clearfield music-lovers.

There will also be a talk by Senator William I. Betts on "Some Ideas on Patriotism" during the afternoon. The concert is given without admission fee and will start promptly at three o'clock.

FARMER GORED TO DEATH BY BULL; WIFE FINDS BODY

Grant Corbett, of Enon, Pa., a former resident of Falls Creek, was attacked and gored to death by a mad bull on his farm last Friday.

Mr. Corbett went into the enclosure where the bull was kept to feed the animal and was alone when attacked. He failed to return to the house for dinner at noon and when his wife investigated she found his horribly mangled and broken body lying near the barn with the bull standing near by.

Mr. Corbett was married October 23, 1921 to Miss Margaret Riddle, of Enon, Pa., who survives him. Funeral services were held at the home on Sunday with interment at Enon.

J. M. Corbett, of Falls Creek, a brother, and Mrs. Guy W. Hicks, of Beechwoods, and Mrs. H. E. Stewart, of Reynoldsville, sisters, attended the funeral. Mr. Corbett was a veteran of the World War and was buried with military honors.

Bandages were permanently removed yesterday from the eye of Alfred Lemonowicz, upon which were grafted parts of a pig's eye. Dr. Edward Morgan, who performed the operation on the blind boy, tested him by telling him to walk to a window. Lemonowicz complied unhesitatingly.

Mexico Decides to Work Out Its Fate Without Recognition By United States

By FREDERICK G. NEUMEIER (United Press Staff Correspondent) Copyrighted 1923, by United Press Mexico City, Mexico. (By mail to the United Press.)—Mexico has decided to work out its own salvation without the "paternal blessing of the state department in Washington."

I learned this authoritatively from a very high official of the Obregon government.

This official informed me that Mexico does not have the intention of reform Articles 27 and 123 of the famous Mexican constitution or the agrarian law to meet the requirements of recognition as laid down by Secretary Hughes.

The Mexican government, he stated, understands thoroughly that while Hughes is secretary of state there can be no recognition until these legislative changes have been effected.

The government, he added, believes on a fifty-fifty basis that it is capable of effecting economic rehabilitation without recognition in other words that recognition is not at all necessary for Mexico to progress.

PLEADS FOR SQUARE DEAL FOR POSTAL CLERKS HERE

Clark Flegal, Speaking to Rotary Club, Says Poor Mail Addresses Delays Force Greatly.

LADIES NIGHT NEXT

Clark Flegal, of the local postoffice force, was the speaker at last night's meeting of the Clearfield Rotary Club at the Hotel Jordan and for a thirty minute period detailed to the assembled Rotarians some of the drawbacks to greater efficiency at the postoffice. Mr. Flegal's talk was both interesting and instructive. He pointed out the loss in efficiency due to careless addressing of letters and packages and made many telling points.

Mr. Flegal said the average postoffice seems determined to make of the postoffice a "guessing" school, by sending in their letters and parcels by carelessly addressed that the post office clerk had to guess where to send the mail.

He said the local postoffice force was handicapped by lack of facilities and improved mail boxes. He stated that if the patrons would have greater efficiency in the postoffice they must co-operate by properly addressing their mail, properly stamping same and getting it to the office in time to allow its proper handling before the mails close.

G. A. Stewart presided over the meeting, in the absence of President Albert Bigger, and supervised us by getting away with it in pretty fair shape.

Bruce Oyler, of Columbus, Ohio, a guest of W. Scott McKelvey, gave the diners a short talk as did Dr. W. St. Piper, who asked for app donors for the High School track and field meet to be held at the Clearfield Park on May 30th. Dr. Piper announced that ten of the proposed fifteen cups had already been provided for.

Chairman Jim Kerr of the Entertainment Committee announced that next Thursday, Feb. 22, would be ladies' night and the meeting would be held at the Dimeling Hotel.

Over A Million Children Of Tender Years Wage Earners

ONE-TWELFTH OF CHILDREN BETWEEN 10 AND 15 ARE EMPLOYED, CHILD BUREAU STATES—THE FIGURES BY STATES

By JAMES KOLBERT
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Feb. 12.—Approximately one-twelfth of all the children in the United States, between the ages of 10 and 15, are wage earners, according to estimates by the Children's Bureau of the department of labor.

Child workers—meaning all those engaged in "gainful occupations"—total 1,060,868, out of the estimated 12,502,582 children between the ages of 10 and 15 in the country. This large number is partly attributed to action of the Supreme Court recently holding child labor laws unconstitutional.

The number of working children between the ages of 10 and 15 years was placed at 378,063.

While the census bureau did not report on the number of employed children under the age of 10, the children's bureau said boys and girls of this class are employed in large numbers in agriculture, and in smaller numbers in other occupations, including domestic service, industrial home work and street trading.

More Boys Than Girls. More boys are wage earners than girls, the bureau stated. Boy workers total 714,248 compared with 346,610 girls.

Agriculture claims the largest number of child workers, the number in that class being 647,309; 185,337 children were tabulated in cotton, silk, and woolen mills, cigar, clothing and furniture and canneries and workshops; 80,000 children in clerical occupations; 63,000 in trade; 54,000, the majority girls, in "domestic and personal service"; and 7,191 in mines.

Child labor is practiced in all parts of the country the bureau stated. The percentages of juvenile workers, by (Continued on Page 2).

More at Work Now.

The employment of children in 1920 as reported by the census bureau was less widespread than in 1910, but this was due to the fact that the federal law imposing a tax on products of child labor was in operation from April, 1919, to May, 1922. This law has been declared unconstitutional by the United States supreme court, and a count now would show a still greater percentage of children at work, the bureau stated.

and for some time after holding that office, his only love affair, his line passion, his infatuation, was that with Dame Recognition. He was ready to do everything that he could for this love affair. He expelled labor leaders, ousted what was termed radical governors wobbled from side to side and never made a straight answer. To his fellow revolutionists who fought with him, his actions caused only wonderment.

Obregon Takes Stand

"Later after the decision on Article 27 and after Hughes had made the decision for conservative reforms, Obregon took a radical stand. He took the position which the federal and workers wanted. His "no" to M. Hughes was a "yes" to his followers.

"Obregon took the stand that part of Article 27 could not be changed, leaving the other part untouched and when he turned down Hughes' proposal, he had to come out flat-footed for the agrarian reforms. He found that in Mexico the church did not draw any line of demarcation between its religious, political and social activities.

"It wasn't until the now famous Mexican revolution that the lines were tight drawn. At one time this revolution looked, according to press reports, as a serious action against the Obregon government but it ended only to strengthen the Obregon government. The country was not ripe for a revolution, the people were satisfied. The peasants and the laboring people really made the capture of Murguia possible. They, in a secret underground way which they had learned during the Carranza revolution, communicated with the federal troops and told them of the march of Murguia.

Workers Took Action

"The peasants and the workers continually on the watch for Murguia. When Murguia was given refuge by a priest in a church, the peasants and workers immediately took action which resulted in the capture and execution of the counter-revolutionary leader.

"It was then that Obregon saw who his friends were. He realized that in order not to suffer the same fate as Madero, who made overtures to the reactionaries, he must overcome the reactionaries and stand by the people who fought with him."

"I also find among a certain class of Mexicans that there is a strong impression that the action of President Harding and Hughes in the Mexican question is unifying the Mexican radicals."

Three telephone operators stuck at their post in the Penn street exchange despite the heat which shattered window panes in the room where they worked. The Sadler Hardware Company was the heaviest loser, their two story building being completely destroyed. Aid was summoned from Uniontown and other towns nearby.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

That land on the other side of the River Styx is not such a bad place after all if one could believe Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who says one enters into real enjoyment and bliss after he settles with old Charon at the ferry and hops into the "promised land." Sir Arthur Conan says eternal youth exists in that far country.

"On the 'other side,' there is no childbirth, no love in the grosser sense," says Sir Arthur. "There is marriage in the sense of love, between man and wife. Children grow up at the same rate as here. Old people are rejuvenated, going back to their prime."

"A man who has been a 'good fellow' here will find all people to whom he has done good turns waiting to welcome him, but the miserable money-grubber will have to wander alone in the cold gray gloom."

One of the most striking facts brought to light in connection with the search by the Historical Society of Richmond, Virginia, for the body of Pocahontas, the Indian princess, heroine of John Smith's colony in Virginia, is that her name was not Pocahontas, but Matoaka. Pocahontas was a nickname, or "little name" used by her father Powhatan, when she was a girl of ten years. It was at this age that she first became known to the English settlers in Virginia, first as the friend of Captain John Smith, and later as the savior of the struggling colony from the anger of her father. Pocahontas was an Indian word meaning "little timbony."

William Strachey, secretary of the colony, who arrived in Virginia with Lord Delaware in 1610, is the authority for the statement that the Indian girl's name was Matoaka. He wrote, "Pocahontas, or Matoaka, the daughter of Powhatan, is married to a discrete English gentleman, Master Rolfe, after she had renounced idolatry and been baptized." He added that Pocahontas, meaning "little timbony" was the "little name" given to children according to a custom of Indians, although she was called Matoaka at more ripe years.

Further proof is to be found in the inscription on the portrait of Matoaka, which arrived in London by Simon de Passe in 1616 when she made her triumphal entry into England as the wife of John Rolfe. The inscription reads, "Matoaka, alias Rebecca, filia Potentiss, or Matoaka alias Rebecca (her baptismal name) daughter of the powerful prince Powhatan, Emperor of the Virginians." This picture is now in the possession of a descendant of the Rolfe family in Norfolk County, England.

After her marriage with John Rolfe he died on shipboard on the eve of her return from England to America. She was buried in a churchyard near Gravesend. The site of her grave is being sought with the object of returning her body to America for burial under a memorial monument.

The story of Pocahontas is so widely known and so deeply engraved in the records of the colony, but it is probable that the legend of her saving John Smith from death at the hands of Powhatan's executioners covering his body with her own, was somewhat exaggerated. At that time she was but ten years of age, and it is hard to credit a ten-year-old girl with so much courage and resolution. Her great service to the colony, that of teaching John Rolfe the right way to cultivate tobacco, has been overshadowed by her romance.

John Rolfe and not Sir Walter Raleigh was the man who first introduced tobacco to England, and who foresaw the wealth to be derived from its cultivation. It was due to Matoaka, his wife, that the commercial possibilities of tobacco planting were discovered by the Indians and at once recognized its value. But when he attempted to grow tobacco on a commercial scale, he ran into practical difficulties growing out of lack of experience with the plant.

At the time when he made his first experiments the colonists were at "odds" with Powhatan, a powerful Indian chief in control of all of the tribes surrounding the settlement. Matoaka, or Pocahontas, his daughter, had been kidnapped by the settlers and was being held as a hostage. She was consulted by Rolfe and, following his advice, he was able to bring his experiments in tobacco growing to a successful conclusion.

The few writers in the colony confined their meagre chronicles to events. They had no space for detailing romances. But it can be inferred that, drawn together by their study of tobacco, Rolfe began a courtship of the Indian princess. They were married April 5, 1614. A year before that time the Indian girl had been baptized under the name of "Rebecca."

TWO ESSENTIALS IN "CLEAN UP" EFFORT

Soon the robins will be nesting, and from some source in the community will come a call for a "Clean Up Day" or a "Clean Up Week."

Whoever makes the suggestion will win well, but he or she really would do the community more by starting the slogan: "Don't call it a 'week.' Let's have a real campaign."

A "day" is merely pathetic, and a "week" is hardly long enough to make even a fair start.

Make it a "campaign!" And KEEP IT UP as long as may be necessary to do a real job. That's the first essential of a successful community effort in such work.

The second essential is the public commitment of the thing cleaned up to the new order of things. For example, by the conversion of an unsightly dump into a play ground, or the planting of a cleaned up vacant lot with the green of grass and shrubbery or a thrift garden—but, however it be done, "clothe it in the garb of righteousness," and thereafter its cleanliness and orderliness will be respected by everybody.

Eleven years of experience in this work which now is conducted annually in about 7,000 cities and towns in North America, have demonstrated to the writer both the futility of community clean up efforts that are merely "a lick and a promise" and the utility and effectiveness of the real campaign, well planned and properly conducted.

These facts are generally realized most keenly by those city officials who look after the community cleanliness and health, and generally with inadequate budgets. It is impossible for them to co-ordinate their efforts with those of every householder within a ten-day period, though the public cooperation that can be enlisted in a real campaign is invaluable to them, and to the community, in the visible and lasting results secured and in the sense of personal responsibility for continuous caretaking in these matters that is inculcated by such a campaign.

To "Get the habit" is the thing, and that never can be done in the annual bath of a "day" or a "week."

WELL KNOWN NEWS.

PAPER MAN DIES
Greensburg, Feb. 15.—Robert W. Herbert, one of the best known news paper men in Pennsylvania, died suddenly at his home here tonight. Mr. Herbert returned from Harrisburg this morning after attending a meeting of the Pennsylvania Editorial Association. He had not been well for a year, having failed to recover from an operation at a Pittsburgh hospital. Twelve years ago he purchased an interest in an afternoon newspaper of Greensburg. He was an editor of that paper and president of the publishing company.

Big, good natured Bob Herbert was a prince of good fellows and had many warm friends in Clearfield who will sincerely mourn his death.

BREAKING UP THE STREET GANG

"Fat" is a tall slender Italian, 17 years old, of the first generation in this country. For a business Fat delivers the special delivery letters for the post office of a New England town. After hours and on Sundays he and the gang of which he is the leader have spent their time in any of the various ways in which such crowds do use their leisure time. None of them are bad, though they possess such names as Frog's-lips, Spark-plug, Jazz, Kettle, and so on. theirs is simply an overflowing energy that must have some means of expression. Lacking the opportunities to use their energy in the right way, petty annoyances to the neighborhood, taunting the police for a "chase," and other similar activities occupy their spare moments.

One Tony Forne, a good-natured young Italian owning a house near the gang's neighborhood, also came upon the scene.

Tony saw the work of Community Service at the beaches and liked it—he being the man in charge of one of the bath-houses where the physical director of Community Service has his classes for swimming, group games and the like. Without any solicitation whatever, and out of a clear sky, Tony offered his house to Community Service unconditionally and rent-free for a period of five years, with the option of purchase at a reasonable figure at the end of that time.

Community Service learned of Fat and his gang. The local director called a meeting of the gang after putting the proposition of a club house up to Fat. The gang came in force. They agreed to take over the club house, to organize a club and to assume all responsibility for its proper conduct. They are going to change the house, to tear out partitions to make room for basketball and other athletic games. They are going to put in a new floor. And they will develop a new community spirit, through a winter program which will be promoted in cooperation with Community Service.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor of Progress:—
We all are proud of our city, of course, and may rightfully boast of its being an enterprising and wide awake town in most respects. But there is one condition of things for which most of us should feel ashamed and that is the way in which nearly all sidewalks in the residential districts have been allowed to remain covered with ice during the cold weather of the past few weeks, making it difficult as well as dangerous for pedestrians to get about, with no effort discernible with the naked eye on the part of householders to mitigate the evil. Coal ashes are cheap, plentiful, and effective for safety when spread over the surface of ice-coated walks, and the labor involved isn't worth mentioning. Many walks are uneven, with deep depressions which fill with water when there is a thaw or rain, but that can hardly be remedied before the advent of Monroeville, N. J., Feb. 10.—A new butter record for south Jersey has been set by a registered cow, Adelaide Armsby Spoffard, owned by Joseph S. Bill, who has a dairy farm near Monroeville.

This cow has made a record of 35.82 pounds of butter from 665 pounds of milk in seven days, and 140.45 pounds of butter from 2710.40 pounds of milk in thirty days. Adelaide's highest production was 106 pounds of milk. Mr. Bill bought Adelaide at an auction sale four years ago, and the cow is now seven years old.

"Canned Willie" in Ancient Tomb

Egyptian natives are shown here carrying embalmed beef from the thirty-century-old tomb of King Tutankhamen. Forty packages of this beef carefully sealed in wooden boxes were taken from the tomb.

NEW MANAGER FOR ATLANTIC REFINING CO.

Ex-Sheriff A. M. Gorman, who was connected with the Atlantic Refining Company before being elected and who resumed service in its employ at the expiration of his term of office Jan. 1, 1923, has been appointed manager for this district to succeed his brother, the late David E. Gorman, who was killed at the New York Central crossing near Clearfield Creek on January 5th last.

Sheriff Gorman has a wide acquaintance throughout this region and knowing the trade thoroughly will undoubtedly prove to be the right man for the position.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Michaels of Phillipsburg are guests at the home of Mrs. Michaels' sister, Mrs. J. E. Brown, of Ninth street. Mrs. Michaels has entered the hospital as a surgical patient.

Still Hope for the Homely Girl

By HEDDA HOYT
Fashion Editor of The United Press
(Written for the United Press)
New York, N. Y., Feb. 12 (United Press.)

"This here, Mrs. Vander's got nuth' in on me," said Kitty Malone to Maggie McKee. "I see by the paper. That shes' got a coat of one thousand ermines. That sure gets my goat. One thousand ermines To cover her shins. I'll bet that she'd rather have my shapely pins."

Contentment is one of the things that riches can't buy. If you doubt it look at the faces of the wealthy women who sit in the millionaire circle at the opera.

They have everything that money can buy; beautiful clothes, maids to rub away wrinkles and apply cosmetics, friends and social life and yet, as they sit there, beneath the rose-tinted lights, their faces are any thing but contented. They are a futile, restless lot. Many of them are too fat. Others are too thin. Costly gowns cannot conceal these facts.

The woman who is blessed with a good sound mind, a well-built body and a passably attractive face possesses wealth which surpasses bank accounts and jewels. She has a foundation upon which to build a beautiful womanhood.

Just Finish the Job! Never be discontent with yourself. The only new thing under the sun is the human being! There never has been and never will be two persons exactly alike. Work with yourself as an artist would with an interest painting that is half finished. Study yourself minutely. Learn what color your eyes are best to bring out the color in your eyes—the only eyes that were exactly like yours. If you are a colorless person with hair of a disappointing shade, try wearing hats of pretty pastel shades and see how they will become you.

Sometimes even the colorless tans will bring out qualities in colorless persons which are quite lovely. Remember that many exquisite paintings are done in dull colors with little contrasts.

Sometimes absolute homeliness can be attractive. At a recent dinner I saw a very plain looking girl with a high ugly forehead accentuated that defect until it became positively attractive. She parted her pale lusterless hair in the middle and drew it down over her ears, rolling it in a loose knot at the nape of her neck. Two long cameo earrings hung from her ears, giving her a quaint old fashioned look. She had grayish eyes and wore a gown of even paler gray which was of the simple long basque type. Her long slender arms were concealed in very full chiffon sleeves which were confined at the wrists with gray satin bands. She might have followed the reigning fashions and become a complete nonentity, but she was wise enough to know that she must be different from the pretty girls or she would be lost.

Long Waisted Gowns Just now the long-waisted gowns are all the rage but the short girl should beware of the too-long waist line lest she look all waist and no skirt. The short girl can not go to extremes in fashion. She must strike a happy medium if she wishes to appear at her best.

Extremely long skirts are not good on her nor are the extremely short ones. In the long skirts she is apt to look as though she were dressed in her mother's clothes and in the short ones she looks as though she is wearing her baby sisters. Eight or ten inches from the ground is a good standard length for her.

Bonar Law Is Given Big Vote Of Confidence By The House Of Lords

London, Feb. 16.—The House of Lords today gave Premier Bonar Law a vote of confidence on his Ruhr policy.

A labor amendment to the resolution adopting the policy outlined by the King's speech from the throne at the opening of Parliament was defeated 277 to 180.

Mahogany Woodwork.

Mahogany was first introduced in Europe by a Captain Gibbons, who, thinking it worthless, ballasted his ship with the wood when returning from the West Indies. Woodston, a cabinet-maker in Long Acre, London, made a bureau for the captain's brother, and the wood was so admired that it quickly became fashionable and valuable.

Historic Herb House.

It is not widely known, except to the trade, that Madison, Ind., has the largest and perhaps the oldest herb house in the United States, which has existed since 1854. It collects from various parts of the country and distributes to many parts of the world approximately 100 varieties of leaves and roots known in the business as crude drugs.

Village Spreads for Miles.

Probably the largest village in the world is Kempton, England, which stretches along a single road for seven miles.

Blackheaded Pimples Quit With S. S. S.

Why? Pimple-Poison Goes: When Red-Blood-Cells Increase! S. S. S. Builds These Red-Blood-Cells.

You can be sure of this, nature has no substitute for red-blood-cells. If you don't live in the red rivers of your blood as long as there are enough rich red-blood-cells in it. More red-blood-cells!

That is what you need when you see pimples staring at you in the mirror. Black-headed pimples are worse! Eczema is worse! You can try everything under the sun—you'll find only one answer, more life-power in your blood! The tremendous results, produced by an increase in red-blood-cells, is one of the A. B. C's of medical science. Red-cells mean clear, pure rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovely complexions. They mean more power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead, from boils, from eczema, and skin eruptions, from rheumatism, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you. S. S. S. has been known since 1892, as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-purifiers and system strengtheners ever produced. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again!

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and lustrous.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

OBITUARY NOTED HORSEMAN, FORMER RESIDENT, DIED LAST NIGHT

W. G. Kelley, a well known resident of this section for more than half a century, passed away at 11:30 o'clock last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. S. Adams at Bellevernon, Pa., aged about 84 years. Mr. Kelley was engaged in business at Oserola in early life and met with considerable success. He came to Clearfield about twenty-five years ago and had since resided here. When he became enfeebled by age several months ago he went to the home of his daughter, who gave him every care until the final summons came.

"Grace" Kelley was a great lover of horses and had been a familiar figure at all the fairs and race meets throughout this region for more than fifty years. He always drove his own horses and always "paved" on that could finish "in the money" with little fuss or feathers about it. He enjoyed the respect and esteem of a wide circle of friends.

His remains will be brought to Clearfield on the 6:45 Pennsylvania train and taken to the home of his brother-in-law R. H. Lynn, corner South Second and Spruce streets. The funeral will be held from the Lynn home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Hillcrest cemetery.

E. M. KEITH DIES

E. M. Keith, formerly employed by the New York Central Railroad company and then a resident of Clearfield, but for the past four or five years residing at Conneaut, Ohio, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Derrick, on Leavy avenue, about 6:20 o'clock last evening, aged about 45 years.

The deceased who was a sufferer from kidney trouble left his home in Conneaut in December last with the intention of going to California to spend the remainder of the winter in the hope of regaining his health. He was so exhausted by the time he reached Clearfield that he was unable to continue the journey and leaving the train here was taken to the Derrick home where he had since been confined and where he was given every attention but the disease had progressed to the point where medicines were of no avail and he gradually wasted away until the end came.

He was an industrious, upright man, enjoying the respect and esteem of all who knew him. He is survived by his widow, four sons and a daughter, viz: J. W., Harry, Eugene, Leland and Ruth. He is also survived by his mother Mrs. M. J. Keith, of Philipsburg and the following brothers and sisters H. S. and D. H., of Colver, Pa.; J. A. Keith in U. S. Army; C. M., of Youngstown, O.; J. A., of Conneaut, O.; Miss Ruth Keith and Mrs. George Gray, of Philipsburg and Mrs. O. H. Wiley, of Blue Ball.

The deceased was a member of the Railroad Trainmen and the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the funeral which will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. from the Lutheran church, will be in charge of Clearfield Aerie. Rev. Hauser of St. John's Lutheran church will conduct the services.

Spring Wraps and Capes

Full-length wraps for spring prefer cape-like lines and are frequently shown with high collars. As in one of the models sketched, the irregular hemline is considered very smart and circular lines are popular. The other sketch is that of a wrap with wide sleeves that are little more than armholes. A deep pleat is used to give the effect of a yoke.

Novel Bloomer Dresses

There are many ways to dress for small girls and children. Notice the tiny frock with raglan sleeves and the dress that is shirred around the neck. Notice the clever dress.

Oak the Monarch.

Among our most useful and valuable trees are the white oak and the red oak, which produce a hard-colored hardwood of remarkable durability, says School Book of Forestry. The white oak is the monarch of the forest, as it lives very long and is larger and stronger than the majority of its associates.

Why Fly Can Walk on Ceiling.

The fly has two sharp claws to catch foot, by means of which it gets a firm grip of any rough surface it walks over. Besides these claws, it has on each foot a little velvet pad, always kept moist with a special kind of gum which it makes for the purpose. It is by the help of these sticky pads that it can run up a window-pane or take a walk on a ceiling.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

The Methodist men of all this section are planning for a mass meeting at their church in this place next Sunday, February 18th, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. Men have been invited from Clearfield, Grampian, Lumber City and other churches within convenient distance of Curwensville. A helpful, spiritually uplifting, enthusiastic time is assured. Of course men of any denomination and the boys and youth of the community will be cordially welcomed to the meeting. It will be in the nature of a free conference during most of its session, just the sort of meeting men enjoy.

Rev. Dr. John C. Collins will deliver his lecture, "Smiles," in the Bloomington Methodist church on the 22d of February, Washington's birthday, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. Tickets may be secured at Shirey's store or from Harry L. Caldwell. Admission 20 and 35 cents. The proceeds from this lecture will be applied to a fund for the purchase of a new musical instrument for the church. As the cause is a good one, everyone who can do so ought to purchase a ticket.

Frank Thompson, the shoemaker, is confined to his abode by a bad attack of grip and cold.

George C. Fleming is laid up again with an attack of the flu. This is about the third time "Piney" has had to battle thru this treacherous complaint.

Several rooms in the High School building had to be dismissed yesterday because it was impossible to get them warm enough for the comfort of the small pupils. There was no trouble in heating the other two buildings, the wind not striking either one with such force.

The attendance during the three days of Chautauqua, all told, tallied up to almost eighteen hundred persons, fully demonstrating that the entertainments were interesting and appreciated.

Great Jehosaphat! Talk about cyclones, sandstorms and whirlwinds! None of these three had a cowhorn to what this town experienced Wednesday night and all day yesterday. The velocity of the cutting wind averaged, on a fair estimate, from seventy to eighty miles an hour, and the man miles at that. People were caught and whirled about with a speed that landed them on their backs on the sidewalk. Gas man driving on the road near Nanticoke with a horse sled was caught in a whirl of wind, his sled was overturned and he was carried about ten feet away. The rural man's mail sled was tipped over once or twice as he traveled his route. Some window panes were blown from the sash and in two instances front doors twisted from hinges and carried along several hundred feet. Old timers, who have been out hauling timber in all kinds and degrees of weather in the early days, are a unit in declaring that the wind blizzard of the past two days was the worst that they had ever witnessed. And we concur in their statement, as ye correspondents were caught in a swirl, throw down on the walk and rolled around like a tadpole in a mud hole. May the Good Lord deliver us from another wind blast such as yesterday or another bump on the sidewalk. Selch

Tonight Rev. Frank Leidy, D. D., of Barnesboro, Cambria county, will preside at the Methodist church services. Frank Leidy is a son of Rev. George Leidy, deceased, and who was pastor of this church at two different periods. The Rev. Frank was but a kid when the Leidy family removed from Curwensville, but will no doubt recognize many familiar faces in his congregation while delivering his discourse tonight. Saturday night there will be no services held, but on Sunday Revs. E. A. Pyles, D. D., of Williamsport, and F. W. Riddle, of M. Union, will be here. A huge mass meeting has been arranged for the afternoon service.

Mrs. Scott McFadden, of Grampian Road, and Mrs. Maudie Poble, of George street, are both reported on the invalid register.

"Spring Maid" Troupe Nears Perfection With Nightly Rehearsals

The last night's rehearsal of "The Spring Maid" went along like the proverbial song and much headway was made. The "troupeurs" are getting their speaking and singing parts down like professionals and the chorus is rounding into shape like veterans. Mr. Sinclair is working to have this performance right from every standpoint and to that end certainly gave the cast a great drilling. (Adv.)

La Follette Assails Refunding Plan From A Different Angle

Washington, Feb. 16.—Passing of the British debt on the terms proposed means that the United States will be pledged to secure the territorial integrity of the vast British Empire for the next sixty-two years. Senator La Follette of Wisconsin declared today in a speech to the Senate opposing ratification of the settlement.

Measurement Almost Perfect.
Electric pyrometry, as the measurement of temperature by electric means is called, has been so far perfected that it is applicable from near the absolute zero—about -273 degrees Fahrenheit below the ordinary zero—to the temperature of molten platinum, more than 3800 degrees above zero.

A great deal of excitement was caused last evening about 9:30 when fire was discovered in the cellar of the "Worcester Block" directly under the tailor shop of Joseph Kujawa. The alarm was sounded and the firemen were right on the job, finding considerable smoke issuing from the cellar. Donning their smoke helmets they entered and found a small blaze producing a lot of smoke. The blaze was quickly extinguished with chemicals and a serious fire averted. Examination showed the fire apparently was due to a defective flue.

The body of Russell Bloom, who died aboard ship at Mobile, Ala., on Tuesday last, will arrive in Curwensville on Saturday morning. The funeral will be held from his late home on Sunday afternoon.

You Can Quickly Limber Up Sore, Stiff, Swollen Joints

Even Chronic Rheumatic Swellings in Knee, Elbow, Shoulder or Finger Joints Yield to the Mighty Powerful Influence of JOINT-EASE.

It's here, right in town and every live druggist has it. It's a low price remedy, to be sure, but that doesn't stop it from taking the kinks, lameness or torture out of your troubled joints.

JOINT-EASE is the name, so called because it is compounded solely for the purpose of relieving all joint ailments.

Just rub it on the tormented, lame joints and in just a few seconds it will penetrate to the bone and blessed comfort comes quickly.

It absorbs instantly and is so clean and stainless that you can rub it on often and get thereby, results much more quickly when the joint is inflamed and the agony intense.

Being such a powerful counter irritant, it cannot help bring speedy and helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and neuralgia much quicker than almost any remedy you can buy.

But you must remember that it is for joint afflictions that it is mostly dispensed and its helpfulness will astonish you after all ordinary liniments and other treatments have failed.

HURRYING FIRE WITH KEROSENE FATAL TO BOY, 15

WILLIS HUNTER, AGE 15, DIED ON WAY TO HOSPITAL HERE

Lad Got Kerosene at Store This Morning at Bald Hill, Where His Family Has Residence.

HORRIBLY BURNED

Willis Hunter, aged 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hunter, of Bald Hill, died this morning in a sled en route to the Clearfield hospital, as the result of burns received at his home this morning when he attempted to start a fire with coal oil.

Young Hunter arose this morning between 6 and 7 o'clock and while starting a fire in the stove attempted to get quick action by the use of some coal oil from a five-gallon can of the stuff. The usual result followed and the explosion deluged the boy and the room with the burning oil.

Neighbors attracted to the scene succeeded in extinguishing the fire in the boy's clothing but not until the clothes were literally burned off of him. Dr. H. H. Lewis, of Surveyor, called and administered first aid to the badly injured lad whose body was burned all over, and he was then placed in a sled belonging to the Bald Hill Coal Company and accompanied by James Hunter, an uncle, and Supt. David Davidson, started for the Clearfield hospital. When the hospital was reached it was found the boy had died on the way up and his remains were turned over to Undertaker Thompson, who prepared them for burial and then took them back to Bald Hill for interment.

The room in which the explosion occurred was badly damaged and the furniture destroyed but strenuous work on the part of neighbors saved the house from destruction, although the remainder of the Hunter family who were on the second floor at the time had to jump out of the upper windows to escape.

COLLINS GETS THREE YEARS
Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 16.—Harry Collins, former proprietor of the notorious "Black and Tan Cabaret," famed for night life and free mixing between whites and negroes was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and serve three years in the Western Penitentiary by Judge Carpenter in Criminal Court. Collins was convicted of trafficking in drugs. A motion for a new trial was denied.

No Relief Is Promised From Cold Wave Until Sunday, Says Bureau

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—The cold wave in the eastern part of the United States will continue until tomorrow night the Weather Bureau forecasted today.

Low record temperature for many parts of the country were reported.

San Francisco, Feb. 16.—Belief that the lives of all seamen imperiled in the wreck of the five ships off the coast of Washington had been saved was dashed today when efforts to locate the crew of the Tuscan Prince proved unavailing.

The last word to be received from the ship, with a crew of more than forty, was a wireless flash that she was sinking fast in Mott's Sound near Elixian Point.

The crews of the other wrecked vessels were saved.

ALLIES TO REFUSE OBEDIENCE TO THE TURKISH DECREE

London, Feb. 16.—Allied high commissioners are sending a note to Ankara today refusing to recognize the Turkish ultimatum demanding clearance of Smyrna Harbor of all foreign vessels.

British and French cruisers and destroyers have remained in the foreign waters regardless of the ultimatum set by the latest Ottoman dismissal and the Allies are not retreating from their defiance of any Turkish decrees having to do with their liberty of action.

HUGHES DENOUNCES BRITAIN'S ACT IN EXPELLING CONSUL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—The United States has prepared a sharp note to Great Britain denouncing the attitude of the latter Government in expelling two American Consuls from New Castle, England.

The note, signed by Secretary Hughes, takes no trouble to conceal the displeasure of the American Government at the step taken by Great Britain in connection with her action in cancelling the recognition of the United States Consuls at New Castle.

ESSEN EXPERIENCES ALL THE INJURIES OF A REAL INVASION

Dusseldorf, Feb. 16.—Arrests, restriction and resistance in the Ruhr multiplied today until many districts were in a state scarcely distinguishable from that of war.

Conditions were worse at Essen where two infantry Companies were sent out to take possession of the city hall, while French soldiers with fixed bayonets joyfully helped themselves in shops and in restaurants and the tension increased during the day. German Nationalists were reported a demonstration against the invaders and French troops took extraordinary precaution, fearing a coup.

General Fournier sought to break the shop-keepers boycott against the French troops by permitting the soldiers to break in and take what they pleased. The Frenchmen had a hilarious time drinking free beer and liquors. Officials requisitioned by force whatever they required.

Essen, Feb. 16.—German police shot two French soldiers in the Zellershof hotel here last night. French troops in the hotel insisted upon being served despite the boycott which was in effect against them. Two German police entering the hotel, opened fire, wounding two.

National Legislation Cannot Cure Divorce Evil Says Able Man

Madison, Wis., Feb. 16. (United Press)—Marriage and divorce problems of the nation cannot be settled by national legislation.

"The country is too big and conditions vary greatly on this subject; secondly, an amendment in this matter cannot change the morals of the people," Dean H. S. Richards, of the law school of the University of Wisconsin said.

A uniform law might not be administered uniformly, he pointed out.

"It might make the definition of divorce uniform, but that would not alter the difficulty the courts meet when there is collusion.

"When people are agreed to a divorce, evidences and grounds are a secondary consideration. Equally, it is impossible to regulate the decisions of the courts. Grounds are sufficient and evidence is valid when they appear so to the judge and jury, and their loose or strict interpretation of the law is determined by the attitude of that part of the public which forms the community.

"People differ widely in various communities; for instance, in South Carolina, where divorce is not allowed for any reason, people are almost wholly against divorce; in Nevada, which is notorious for the ease with which a divorce may be secured, people have enacted a broader legislation.

"Betterment of the divorce situation will come only when there is a change in the attitude of the people as a whole. When this change does come, it will evidence itself in a change in state laws."

Practically every state in the union disregards the article in the federal constitution enjoining each state to accept as law the judicial proceeding of every other state, as far as divorces are concerned. In Wisconsin, for instance, the authorities will not recognize as legal a marriage that has taken place within a year after one of the parties was divorced, when the divorce was granted in another state.

Mr. H. F. Dietz, returned to his home at Hickory, No. Carolina, Wednesday after spending the past two months with his son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Dietz. Mr. and Mrs. M. O. A. Sahm entertained a drop-in last evening at their home on Third street. The evening was spent in playing 500. Dainty refreshments were served.

MANY SO-CALLED REFORM BILLS MAKE THEIR APPEARANCE IN LEGISLATURE

Harrisburg, Feb. 13. (United Press)—An unprecedented number of "reform bills" were demanding the attention of the members of the General Assembly today.

The flood of this type of bills began with the first day of the session and has continued until scores have found their way to committees of both the House and the Senate. Perhaps the principal feature of this legislative phenomenon, which is frankly puzzling many of the most experienced members, is the fact that most of them are coming "direct from the people."

In many instances the legislators who sponsor these bills admit that they are acting on the instance of constituents and not attempting to register their own legislative theories. In committee meetings when questioned concerning a bill the sponsor often is forced to reply, "I really am not sure of that point myself. I was asked to offer this bill by some of my constituents."

Some of the "reforms" already pending before the Legislature are: Prison reform. Election reform. Reforms in the motor vehicle laws. Tax reforms. Labor and health reforms.

An interesting array of bills that are in committee calls for such adjustment in the present scheme of life as:

C. H. S. MUST WIN TONIGHT TO STAY ON TOP OF HEAP

By DICK LEIPOLD

Two of the hardest games on the Red and Black's schedule will be played this week-end, when, tonight Coach Reed's dribblers play at Reynoldsville, and Saturday evening meet the fast Mount Union High floor team at the local school's gym.

The Reynoldsville game promises to be just about the toughest league contest that Clearfield will encounter until Brookville invades Clearfield, and a very close score should result, if dope runs true. The Reynoldsville team, floor and crowd form a triumvirate that is hard to beat. The floor is very small, being on the same type as the old Clearfield "Y" gym. Shots are possible from any position, and a tight defense against shooting is almost impossible, which means that C. H. S. tossers must play their opponents man for man, instead of using their regular defensive system. The Jefferson county five put up a wonderful game on their home floor, as past scores indicate. It took Brookville an extra period to annex a 21 to 18 victory, while DuBois' strong aggregation was played to a 14-14 score at half time, although eventually winning the game.

Clearfield Must Win This Evening. If the locals are to remain at the top of the league ladder, this evening's game must result in a Red and Black victory. A loss means that the winner of the DuBois-Brookville battle at Brookville will be tied with C. H. S. for first place. At present, Clearfield has an excellent chance of carrying off the district championship, if a slump does not attack Reed's machine, for possessing a one-game lead over the two nearest rivals, DuBois and Brookville, Clearfield cannot be overtaken if the last four games are wins. This one game advantage is a difficult position to obtain in a close (Continued on Page 5)

LOST BOTH LEGS WHEN RUN OVER BY A COAL TRAIN

Benjamin Ritchey, of Scotch Hollow, near Philipsburg, was run over by a train on the Big Run branch of the Pennsylvania railroad, on Wednesday morning last and suffered the loss of both legs. One of the legs was cut completely off by the train, while the other was so badly mangled it had to be amputated at the Cottage State Hospital at Philipsburg yesterday.

The unfortunate man, though suffering great pain, has a chance for recovery, his physicians say.

BRITAIN REFUSES TO ALLOW FRANCE INTO COLOGNE

London, Feb. 16.—The latest Franco-British conference ended abruptly today reported in disagreement by the British refusing France permission to take troop manned trains through the Cologne area.

Optimism expressed earlier in the day that the French Minister of Public Works would be successful in his mission was dampened when the conference broke up.

The entente survives the breakdown, however, it was authoritatively indicated. The French will return to Paris tonight.

Paris, Feb. 16.—The general strike of French coal miners, which began today is serious, it was semi-officially admitted this afternoon.

Seventy-five per cent of mine workers in the Loire region are out, about twenty per cent in the Nord and ten per cent elsewhere.

Mrs. Eva Stoughton, who was a medical patient at the Clearfield hospital, has returned to her Ogden avenue home very much improved in health.

C. B. Corless of Coniston, Ontario, spent several days in Clearfield on a matter of business.

Last Rehearsal Held For Free All-American Concert On Sunday

Everything is in readiness for the patriotic band concert to be given in the High School auditorium by the Clearfield American Legion Band on Sunday afternoon next. Prof. Thayer called a rehearsal for last night to put the finishing touches on some of the numbers and this promises to be one of the most popular concerts that this live musical organization has ever given Clearfield music-lovers.

There will also be a talk by Senator William I. Betts on "Some Ideas on Patriotism" during the afternoon. The concert is given without admission fee and will start promptly at three o'clock.

FARMER GORED TO DEATH BY BULL; WIFE FINDS BODY

Grant Corbett, of Enon, Pa., a former resident of Falls Creek, was attacked and gored to death by a mad bull on his farm last Friday.

Mr. Corbett went into the enclosure where the bull was kept to feed the animal and was alone when attacked. He failed to return to the house for dinner at noon and when his wife investigated she found his horribly mangled and broken body lying near the barn with the bull standing near by.

Mr. Corbett was married October 23, 1921 to Miss Margaret Riddle, of Enon, Pa., who survives him. Funeral services were held at the home on Sunday with interment at Enon.

J. M. Corbett, of Falls Creek, a brother, and Mrs. Guy W. Hicks, of Beechwoods, and Mrs. H. E. Stewart, of Reynoldsville, sisters, attended the funeral. Mr. Corbett was a veteran of the World War and was buried with military honors.

Mexico Decides to Work Out Its Fate Without Recognition By United States

By FREDERICK G. NEUMEIER (United Press Staff Correspondent) Copyrighted 1923, by United Press Mexico City, Mexico. (By mail to the United Press.)—Mexico has decided to work out its own salvation without the "paternal blessing of the state department in Washington."

I learned this authoritatively from a very high official of the Obregon government.

This official informed me that Mexico does not have the intention of reform Articles 27 and 123 of the famous Mexican constitution or the agrarian law to meet the requirements of recognition as laid down by Secretary Hughes.

The Mexican government, he stated, understands thoroughly that while Hughes is secretary of state there can be no recognition until these legislative changes have been effected.

The government, he added, believes on a fifty-fifty basis that it is capable of effecting economic rehabilitation without recognition in other words that recognition is not at all necessary for Mexico to progress.

PLEADS FOR SQUARE DEAL FOR POSTAL CLERKS HERE

Clark Flegal, Speaking to Rotary Club, Says Poor Mail Addresses Delays Force Greatly.

LADIES NIGHT NEXT

Clark Flegal, of the local postoffice force, was the speaker at last night's meeting of the Clearfield Rotary Club at the Hotel Jordan and for a thirty minute period detailed to the assembled Rotarians some of the drawbacks to greater efficiency at the postoffice. Mr. Flegal's talk was both interesting and instructive. He pointed out the loss in efficiency due to careless addressing of letters and packages and made many telling points.

Mr. Flegal said the average postoffice seems determined to make of the postoffice a "guessing school," by sending in their letters and parcels by carelessly addressed that the post office clerk had to guess where to send the mail.

He said the local postoffice force was handicapped by lack of facilities and improved mail boxes. He stated that if the patrons would have greater efficiency in the postoffice they must co-operate by properly addressing their mail, properly stamping same and getting it to the office in time to allow its proper handling before the mails close.

G. A. Stewart presided over the meeting, in the absence of President Albert Bigger, and supervised us by getting away with it in pretty fair shape.

Bruce Oyler, of Columbus, Ohio, a guest of W. Scott McKelvey, gave the diners a short talk as did Dr. W. St. Piper, who asked for app donors for the High School track and field meet to be held at the Clearfield Park on May 30th. Dr. Piper announced that ten of the proposed fifteen cups had already been provided for.

Chairman Jim Kerr of the Entertainment Committee announced that next Thursday, Feb. 22, would be ladies' night and the meeting would be held at the Dimeling Hotel.

Over A Million Children Of Tender Years Wage Earners

ONE-TWELFTH OF CHILDREN BETWEEN 10 AND 15 ARE EMPLOYED, CHILD BUREAU STATES—THE FIGURES BY STATES

By JAMES KOLBERT

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Feb. 12.—Approximately one-twelfth of all the children in the United States, between the ages of 10 and 15, are wage earners, according to estimates by the Children's Bureau of the department of labor.

Child workers—meaning all those engaged in "gainful occupations"—total 1,060,868, out of the estimated 12,502,582 children between the ages of 10 and 15 in the country. This large number is partly attributed to action of the Supreme Court recently holding child labor laws unconstitutional.

The number of working children between the ages of 10 and 15 years was placed at 378,063.

While the census bureau did not report on the number of employed children under the age of 10, the children's bureau said boys and girls of this class are employed in large numbers in agriculture, and in smaller numbers in other occupations, including domestic service, industrial home work and street trading.

More Boys Than Girls. More boys are wage earners than girls, the bureau stated. Boy workers total 714,248 compared with 346,610 girls.

Agriculture claims the largest number of child workers, the number in that class being 647,309; 185,337 children were tabulated in cotton, silk, and woolen mills, cigar, clothing and furniture and canneries and workshops; 80,000 children in clerical occupations; 63,000 in trade; 54,000, the majority girls, in "domestic and personal service"; and 7,191 in mines.

Child labor is practiced in all parts of the country the bureau stated. The percentages of juvenile workers, by (Continued on Page 2).

More at Work Now.

The employment of children in 1920 as reported by the census bureau was less widespread than in 1910, but this was due to the fact that the federal law imposing a tax on products of child labor was in operation from April, 1919, to May, 1922. This law has been declared unconstitutional by the United States supreme court, and a count now would show a still greater percentage of children at work, the bureau stated.

Mexico Decides To Work Out Its Fate

and for some time after holding that office, his only love affair, his love passion, his infatuation, was that with Dame Recognition. He was ready to do everything that he could for this love affair. He expelled labor leaders, ousted what was termed radical governors wobbled from side to side and never made a straight answer. To his fellow revolutionists who fought with him, his actions caused only wanderment.

Obregon Takes Stand

"After after the decisions on Article 27 and after Hughes had made the decisions for the relative reforms, Obregon took a radical stand. He took the position which the farmers and workers wanted. His "no" to M. Hughes was a "yes" to his followers.

Obregon took the stand that part of Article 27 could not be changed, leaving the other part untouched and when he turned down Hughes' proposal, he had to come out flat-footed for the agrarian reforms. He found that in Mexico the church did not draw any line of demarcation between its religious, political and social activities.

"It wasn't until the now famous Mexican revolution that the lines were tightly drawn. At one time this revolution looked, according to press reports, as a serious action against the Obregon government but it ended only to strengthen the Obregon government. The country was not ripe for a revolution, the people were satisfied. The peasants and the laboring people really made the capture of Murguia possible. They, in a secret underground way which they had learned during the Carranza revolution, communicated with the federal troops and told them of the march of Murguia.

Workers Took Action

"The peasants and the workers continually on the watch for Murguia. When Murguia was given refuge by a priest in a church, the peasants and workers immediately took action which resulted in the capture and execution of the counter-revolutionary leader.

"It was then that Obregon saw who his friends were. He realized that in order not to suffer the same fate as Madero, who made overtures to the reactionaries, he must overcome the reactionaries and stand by the people who fought with him."

I also find among a certain class of Mexicans that there is a strong impression that the action of President Harding and Hughes in the Mexican question is unifying the Mexican radicals.

Point Marion, Pa., Feb. 16.—Fire bearing destruction in its wake swept the heart of the business section and destroyed the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad station and half a dozen other buildings with loss estimated at three hundred thousand dollars.

The fire started in the plant of the Point Marion News from an unknown source. Three telephone operators stuck at their post in the Penn street exchange despite the heat which shattered window panes in the room where they worked.

The Sadler Hardware Company was the heaviest loser, their two story building being completely destroyed. Aid was summoned from Uniontown and other towns nearby.

TWO ESSENTIALS IN "CLEAN UP" EFFORT

Soon the robins will be nesting, and from some source in the community will come a call for a "Clean Up Day" or a "Clean Up Week."

Whoever makes the suggestion will mean well, but he or she really would do the community more by starting the slogan: "Don't call it a 'week.' Let's have a real campaign."

A "day" is merely pathetic, and a "week" is hardly long enough to make even a fair start.

Make it a "campaign!" And KEEP IT UP as long as may be necessary to do a real job. That's the first essential of a successful community effort in such work.

The second essential is the public commitment of the thing cleaned up to the new order of things. For example, by the conversion of an unsightly dump into a play ground, or the planting of a cleaned up vacant lot with the green of grass and shrubbery or a thrift garden—but, however it be done, "clothe it in the garb of righteousness," and thereafter its cleanliness and orderliness will be respected by everybody.

Eleven years of experience in this work which now is conducted annually in about 7,000 cities and towns in North America, have demonstrated to the writer both the futility of community clean up efforts that are merely "a lick and a promise" and the utility and effectiveness of the real campaign, well planned and properly conducted.

These facts are generally realized most keenly by those city officials who look after the community cleanliness and health, and generally with inadequate budgets. It is impossible for them to co-ordinate their efforts with those of every householder within a ten-day period, though the public cooperation that can be enlisted in a real campaign is invaluable to them, and to the community, in the visible and lasting results secured and in the sense of personal responsibility for continuous caretaking in these matters that is inculcated by such a campaign.

To "Get the habit" is the thing, and that never can be done in the annual bath of a "day" or a "week."

WELL KNOWN NEWS.

PAPER MAN DIES
Greensburg, Feb. 15.—Robert W. Herbert, one of the best known news paper men in Pennsylvania, died suddenly at his home here tonight. Mr. Herbert returned from Harrisburg this morning after attending a meeting of the Pennsylvania Editorial Association. He had not been well for a year, having failed to recover from an operation at a Pittsburgh hospital. Twelve years ago he purchased an interest in an afternoon newspaper of Greensburg. He was an editor of that paper and president of the publishing company.

Big, good natured Bob Herbert was a prince of good fellows and had many warm friends in Clearfield who will sincerely mourn his death.

BREAKING UP THE STREET GANG

"Fat" is a tall slender Italian, 17 years old, of the first generation in this country. For a business Fat delivers the special delivery letters for the post office of a New England town. After hours and on Sundays he and the gang of which he is the leader have spent their time in any of the various ways in which such crowds do use their leisure time. None of them are bad, though they possess such names as Frog's-lips, Spark-plug, Jazz, Kettle, and so on. theirs is simply an overflowing energy that must have some means of expression. Lacking the opportunities to use their energy in the right way, petty annoyances to the neighborhood, taunting the police for a "chase," and other similar activities occupy their spare moments.

One Tony Forne, a good-natured young Italian owning a house near the gang's neighborhood, also came upon the scene.

Tony saw the work of Community Service at the beaches and liked it—he being the man in charge of one of the bath-houses where the physical director of Community Service has his classes for swimming, group games and the like. Without any solicitation whatever, and out of a clear sky, Tony offered his house to Community Service unconditionally and rent-free for a period of five years, with the option of purchase at a reasonable figure at the end of that time.

Community Service learned of Fat and his gang. The local director called a meeting of the gang after putting the proposition of a club house up to Fat. The gang came in force. They agreed to take over the club house, to organize a club and to assume all responsibility for its proper conduct. They are going to change the house, to tear out partitions to make room for basketball and other athletic games. They are going to put in a new floor. And they will develop a new community spirit, through a winter program which will be promoted in cooperation with Community Service.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor of Progress:—
We all are proud of our city, of course, and may rightfully boast of its being an enterprising and wide awake town in most respects. But there is one condition of things for which most of us should feel ashamed and that is the way in which nearly all sidewalks in the residential districts have been allowed to remain covered with ice during the cold weather of the past few weeks, making it difficult as well as dangerous for pedestrians to get about, with no effort discernible with the naked eye on the part of householders to mitigate the evil. Coal ashes are cheap, plentiful, and effective for safety when spread over the surface of ice-coated walks, and the labor involved isn't worth mentioning. Many walks are uneven, with deep depressions which fill with water when there is a thaw or rain, but that can hardly be remedied before the advent of

Still Hope for the Homely Girl

By HEDDA HOYT
Fashion Editor of The United Press
(Written for the United Press)
New York, N. Y., Feb. 12 (United Press.)

"This here, Mrs. Vander's got nuth' in on me," said Kitty Malone to Maggie McKee. "I see by the paper. That shes' got a coat of one thousand ermines. That sure gets my goat. One thousand ermines. To cover her shins. I'll bet that she'd rather have my shapely pins."

Contentment is one of the things that riches can't buy. If you doubt it look at the faces of the wealthy women who sit in the millionaire circle at the opera.

They have everything that money can buy; beautiful clothes, maids to rub away wrinkles and apply cosmetics, friends and social life and yet, as they sit there, beneath the rose-tinted lights, their faces are any thing but contented. They are a futile, restless lot. Many of them are too fat. Others are too thin. Costly gowns cannot conceal these facts.

The woman who is blessed with a good sound mind, a well-built body and a passably attractive face possesses wealth which surpasses bank accounts and jewels. She has a foundation upon which to build a beautiful womanhood.

Just Finish the Job! Never be discontent with yourself. The only new thing under the sun is the human being! There never has been and never will be two persons exactly alike. Work with yourself as an artist would with an interest painting that is half finished. Study yourself minutely. Learn what color your eyes are best to bring out the color in your eyes—the only eyes that were exactly like yours. If you are a colorless person with hair of a disappointing shade, try wearing hats of pretty pastel shades and see how they will become you.

Sometimes even the colorless tans will bring out qualities in colorless persons which are quite lovely. Remember that many exquisite paintings are done in dull colors with little contrasts.

Sometimes absolute homeliness can be attractive. At a recent dinner I saw a very plain looking girl with a high ugly forehead accentuated that defect until it became positively attractive. She parted her pale lusterless hair in the middle and drew it down over her ears, rolling it in a loose knot at the nape of her neck. Two long cameo earrings hung from her ears, giving her a quaint old fashioned look. She had grayish eyes and wore a gown of even paler gray which was of the simple long basque type. Her long slender arms were concealed in very full chiffon sleeves which were confined at the wrists with gray satin bands. She might have followed the reigning fashions and become a complete nonentity, but she was wise enough to know that she must be different from the pretty girls or she would be lost.

Long Waisted Gowns Just now the long-waisted gowns are all the rage but the short girl should beware of the too-long waist line lest she look all waist and no skirt. The short girl can not go to extremes in fashion. She must strike a happy medium if she wishes to appear at her best.

Extremely long skirts are not good on her nor are the extremely short ones. In the long skirts she is apt to look as though she were dressed in her mother's clothes and in the short ones she looks as though she is wearing her baby sisters. Eight or ten inches from the ground is a good standard length for her.

Bonar Law Is Given Big Vote Of Confidence By The House Of Lords

London, Feb. 16.—The House of Lords today gave Premier Bonar Law a vote of confidence on his Ruhr policy.

A labor amendment to the resolution adopting the policy outlined by the King's speech from the throne at the opening of Parliament was defeated 277 to 180.

Mahogany Woodwork.

Mahogany was first introduced in Europe by a Captain Gibbons, who, thinking it worthless, ballasted his ship with the wood when returning from the West Indies. Woodston, a cabinet-maker in Long Acre, London, made a bureau for the captain's brother, and the wood was so admired that it quickly became fashionable and valuable.

Historic Herb House.

It is not widely known, except to the trade, that Madison, Ind., has the largest and perhaps the oldest herb house in the United States, which has existed since 1854. It collects from various parts of the country and distributes to many parts of the world approximately 100 varieties of leaves and roots known in the business as crude drugs.

Village Spreads for Miles.

Probably the largest village in the world is Kempton, England, which stretches along a single road for seven miles.

Blackheaded Pimples Quit With S. S. S.

Why? Pimple-Poison Goes: When Red-Blood-Cells Increase! S. S. S. Builds These Red-Blood-Cells.

You can be sure of this, nature has no substitute for red-blood-cells. If you don't live in the red rivers of your blood as long as there are enough rich red-blood-cells in it. More red-blood-cells!

That is what you need when you see pimples staring at you in the mirror. Black-headed pimples are worse! Eczema is worse! You can try everything under the sun—you'll find only one answer, more life-power in your blood! The tremendous results, produced by an increase in red-blood-cells, is one of the A. B. C's of medical science. Red-cells mean clear, pure rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovely complexions. They mean more power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead, from boils, from eczema, and skin eruptions, from rheumatism, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you. S. S. S. has been known since 1820, as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-purifiers and system strengtheners ever produced. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again!

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and lustrous.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

 OBITUARY  NOTED HORSEMAN, FORMER RESIDENT, DIED LAST NIGHT

W. G. Kelley, a well known resident of this section for more than half a century, passed away at 11:30 o'clock last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. S. Adams at Bellevernon, Pa., aged about 84 years. Mr. Kelley was engaged in business at Oscola in early life and met with considerable success. He came to Clearfield about twenty-five years ago and had since resided here. When he became enfeebled by age several months ago he went to the home of his daughter, who gave him every care until the final summons came.

"Grace" Kelley was a great lover of horses and had been a familiar figure at all the fairs and race meets throughout this region for more than fifty years. He always drove his own horses and always "paved" some that could finish "in the money" with little fuss or feathers about it. He enjoyed the respect and esteem of a wide circle of friends.

His remains will be brought to Clearfield on the 6:45 Pennsylvania train and taken to the home of his brother-in-law R. H. Lynn, corner South Second and Spruce streets. The funeral will be held from the Lynn home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Hillcrest cemetery.

E. M. KEITH DIES

E. M. Keith, formerly employed by the New York Central Railroad company and then a resident of Clearfield, but for the past four or five years residing at Conneaut, Ohio, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Derrick, on Leavy avenue, about 6:20 o'clock last evening, aged about 45 years.

The deceased who was a sufferer from kidney trouble left his home in Conneaut in December last with the intention of going to California to spend the remainder of the winter in the hope of regaining his health. He was so exhausted by the time he reached Clearfield that he was unable to continue the journey and leaving the train here was taken to the Derrick home where he had since been confined and where he was given every attention but the disease had progressed to the point where medicines were of no avail and he gradually wasted away until the end came.

He was an industrious, upright man, enjoying the respect and esteem of all who knew him. He is survived by his widow, four sons and a daughter, viz: J. W., Harry, Eugene, Leland and Ruth. He is also survived by his mother Mrs. M. J. Keith, of Philipsburg and the following brothers and sisters: H. S. and D. H., of Colver, Pa.; J. A. Keith in U. S. Army; C. M., of Youngstown, O.; J. A., of Conneaut, O.; Miss Ruth Keith and Mrs. George Gray, of Philipsburg and Mrs. O. H. Wiley, of Blue Ball.

The deceased was a member of the Railroad Trainmen and the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the funeral which will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. from the Lutheran church, will be in charge of Clearfield Aerie. Rev. Hauser of St. John's Lutheran church will conduct the services.

ESTHER STOCK'S HUSBAND DIES

Local relatives were advised by wire this morning of the death at his home in Clarksburg, West Virginia, of John B. Stealey, after an illness of but two days.

The deceased is survived by his widow, nee Esther Stock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stock of South Second street, and four small children.

DECATUR TOWNSHIP CITIZEN DIES

William Hughes, member of one of Decatur township's pioneer and best known families, passed away yesterday afternoon at his home at Centre, near Oscola, aged 79 years.

He is survived by four brothers and one sister, as follows: John, Edward, Ben and Harry Hughes, all of Decatur township, and Mrs. D. C. Burkholder of Clearfield.

The funeral will be held from his late home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Centre.

WEEDVILLE RESIDENT DIES AT HOSPITAL

Tony Orlick, of Weedville, Elk county, aged 58 years, 1 month and 11 days, died at the Clearfield hospital at 11:30 last night, of cancer of the pancreas. The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Fred B. Leavy and prepared for burial after which they were shipped to Weedville on the 11:45 B. & P. train today.

Spring Wraps and Capes

Full-length wraps for spring prefer cape-like lines and are frequently shown with high collars. As in one of the models sketched, the irregular hemline is considered very smart and circular lines are popular. The other sketch is that of a wrap with wide sleeves that are little more than armholes. A deep pleat is used to give the effect of a yoke.

There are many ways to dress for small girls and children. Notice the tiny frock with raglan sleeves and the dress that is shirred around the neck. Notice the clever dress.

Oak the Monarch

Among our most useful and valuable trees are the white oak and the red oak, which produce a hard-colored hardwood of remarkable durability, says School Book of Forestry. The white oak is the monarch of the forest, as it lives very long and is larger and stronger than the majority of its associates.

High Civilization

Education is the basis of a nation. As early as the beginning of the Christian era the people were built strong structures of excellent masonry, true angles and smooth, vertical faces. They had astronomical observatories, an accurate calendar and a better system of numerals than the Romans.

Why Fly Can Walk on Ceiling

The fly has two sharp claws to catch foot, by means of which it gets a firm grip of any rough surface it walks over. Besides these claws, it has on each foot a little velvet pad, always kept moist with a special kind of gum which it makes for the purpose. It is by the help of these sticky pads that it can run up a window-pane or take a walk on a ceiling.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

The Methodist men of all this section are planning for a mass meeting at their church in this place next Sunday, February 18th, at 2:30 o'clock p. m. Men have been invited from Clearfield, Grampian, Lumber City and other churches within convenient distance of Curwensville. A helpful, spiritually uplifting, enthusiastic time is assured. Of course men of any denomination and the boys and youth of the community will be cordially welcomed to the meeting. It will be in the nature of a free conference during most of its session, just the sort of meeting men enjoy.

Rev. Dr. John C. Collins will deliver his lecture, "Smiles," in the Bloomington Methodist church on the 22d of February, Washington's birthday, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. Tickets may be secured at Shirey's store or from Harry L. Caldwell. Admission 20 and 35 cents. The proceeds from this lecture will be applied to a fund for the purchase of a new musical instrument for the church. As the cause is a good one, everyone who can do so ought to purchase a ticket.

Frank Thompson, the shoemaker, is confined to his abode by a bad attack of grip and cold.

George C. Fleming is laid up again with an attack of the flu. This is about the third time "Piney" has had to battle thru this treacherous complaint.

Several rooms in the High School building had to be dismissed yesterday because it was impossible to get them warm enough for the comfort of the small pupils. There was no trouble in heating the other two buildings, the wind not striking either one with such force.

The attendance during the three days of Chautauqua, all told, tallied

up to almost eighteen hundred persons, fully demonstrating that the entertainments were interesting and appreciated.

Great Jehosaphat! Talk about cyclones, sandstorms and whirlwinds! None of these three had a cowhorn to what this town experienced Wednesday night and all day yesterday. The velocity of the cutting wind averaged, on a fair estimate, from seventy to eighty miles an hour, and the man miles at that. People were caught and whirled about with a speed that landed them on their backs on the sidewalk. Gas man driving on the road near Nanticoke with a one horse sled was caught in a whirl of wind, his sled was overturned and he was carried about ten feet away. The rural man's mail sled was tipped over once or twice as he traveled his route. Some window panes were blown from the sash and in two instances front doors twisted from hinges and carried along several hundred feet. Old timers, who have been out hauling timber in all kinds and degrees of weather in the early days, are a unit in declaring that the wind blizzard of the past two days was the worst that they had ever witnessed. And we concur in their statement, as ye correspondent was caught in a swirl, throw down on the walk and rolled around like a tadpole in a mud hole. May the Good Lord deliver us from another wind blast such as yesterday or another bump on the sidewalk. Selch

Tonight Rev. Frank Leidy, D. D., of Barnesboro, Cambria county, will preside at the Methodist church services. Frank Leidy is a son of Rev. George Leidy, deceased, and who was pastor of this church at two different periods. The Rev. Frank was but a kid when the Leidy family removed from Curwensville, but will no doubt recognize many familiar faces in his congregation while delivering his discourse tonight. Saturday night there will be no services held, but on Sunday Revs. E. A. Pyles, D. D., of Williamsport, and F. W. Riddle, of M. Union, will be here. A huge mass meeting has been arranged for the afternoon service.

Mrs. Scott McFadden, of Grampian Road, and Mrs. Maudie Poble, of George street, are both reported on the invalid register.

"Spring Maid" Troupe Nears Perfection With Nightly Rehearsals

The last night's rehearsal of "The Spring Maid" went along like the proverbial song and much headway was made. The "trouper" are getting their speaking and singing parts down like professionals and the chorus is rounding into shape like veterans. Mr. Sinclair is working to have this performance right from every standpoint and to that end certainly gave the cast a great drilling. (Adv.)

La Follette Assails Refunding Plan From A Different Angle

Washington, Feb. 16.—Passing of the British debt on the terms proposed means that the United States will be pledged to secure the territorial integrity of the vast British Empire for the next sixty-two years. Senator La Follette of Wisconsin declared today in a speech to the Senate opposing ratification of the settlement.

Measurement Almost Perfect. Electric pyrometry, as the measurement of temperature by electric means is called, has been so far perfected that it is applicable from near the absolute zero—about -273 degrees Fahrenheit below the ordinary zero—to the temperature of molten platinum, more than 3000 degrees above zero.

A great deal of excitement was caused last evening about 9:30 when fire was discovered in the cellar of the "Worcester Block" directly under the tailor shop of Joseph Kujawa. The alarm was sounded and the firemen were right on the job, finding considerable smoke issuing from the cellar. Dousing their smoke helmets they entered and found a small blaze producing a lot of smoke. The blaze was quickly extinguished with chemicals and a serious fire averted. Examination showed the fire apparently was due to a defective flue.

The body of Russell Bloom, who died about 11:30 at Mobile, Ala., on Tuesday last, will arrive in Curwensville on Saturday morning. The funeral will be held from his late home on Sunday afternoon.

You Can Quickly Limber Up Sore, Stiff, Swollen Joints

Even Chronic Rheumatic Swellings in Knee, Elbow, Shoulder or Finger Joints Yield to the Mighty Powerful Influence of JOINT-EASE.

It's here, right in town and every live druggist has it. It's a low price remedy, to be sure, but that doesn't stop it from taking the kinks, lameness or torture out of your troubled joints.

JOINT-EASE is the name, so called because it is compounded solely for the purpose of relieving all joint ailments.

Just rub it on the tormented, lame joints and in just a few seconds it will penetrate to the bone and blessed comfort comes quickly.

It absorbs instantly and is so clean and stainless that you can rub it on often and get thereby, results much more quickly when the joint is inflamed and the agony intense.

Being such a powerful counter irritant, it cannot help bring speedy and helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and neuralgia much quicker than almost any remedy you can buy.

But you must remember that it is for joint afflictions that it is mostly dispensed and its helpfulness will astonish you after all ordinary liniments and other treatments have failed.

LOCK HAVEN MASONS May Vote On Wet And TO ERECT TEMPLE AT Dry Referendum At A COST OF $173,000 The Fall Election

Lock Haven, Pa., Feb. 16.—The Boydhouse-Arey company, of 212 N. Broad street, Philadelphia, has been awarded the contract for the construction of the Masonic Temple on the site of the old Central Hotel property at the corner of Main and Grove streets. Their bid, which was the lowest of nine submitted, was $147,376.
